MERCY LEADER NAMED TO IOWA ROCK ‘N ROLL HALL OF FAME

Joe LeValley, senior vice president of planning and advocacy for Mercy Health Network, has had a side gig over the years, for which he and his partners recently received statewide recognition. For years, Joe has been drummer and was part of the group known as The Mourning Glory Rock Band, which was recently named to the Iowa Rock ‘n Roll Hall of Fame.

Joe and the other members of the band grew up in Dayton, Iowa, and founded the band in the 1970s. The band, along with several other honorees, will be officially inducted into the Iowa Rock ‘n Roll Hall of Fame on Sept. 4, at the Sami Bedell Center for the Performing Arts in Spirit Lake. That evening, the inductees – including Mourning Glory – will perform at a concert in the Roof Garden Ballroom in Arnold’s Park as part of the “2016 Iowa Rock ‘n Roll Music Association (IRRMA) Hall of Fame Induction Spectacular” weekend Sept. 2-4. The Iowa Rock ‘n Roll Music Association is now entering its 20th induction year.

Mourning Glory was a popular group in the early 70s, performing steadily in ballrooms, nightclubs, colleges and high schools throughout Iowa, Minnesota and South Dakota. The band performed music from a variety of rock groups, ranging from popular bands such as The Beatles and The Rolling Stones, to lesser-known groups such as The Nazz. While band members have continued to perform in various configurations and in other groups, this will be the first time in years the original band will have a chance to play a set of music together. We hope a lot of our friends and family members will be able to join us in the Iowa Great Lakes area for a weekend of fun.”
